Bio

Renee Wynter is an entrepreneurial singer/songwriter who believes in staying true to herself and empowering the future generation. She is no stranger to the industry having previously working alongside individuals like Oshea Hunter, Tone Mason and Kardinal Offishall. Renee is not afraid to chase her passions, showcasing her youthful and positive side through her music. In her latest release, "What It Do," she's making a fierce comeback by putting herself at the forefront of everything from its creative vision to songwriting. Renee co-wrote this song together with her close friends Andreena Mill aka The BLK L$T and Delisha Thomas. Thus, giving Renee the opportunity to let go of her past self while still holding onto a dream that she's held onto since her childhood.
